SERVICES

FORMS OF SUPPORT INCLUDES:

RECOVERY COACHING
A peer-to-peer support service where a recovery coach meets face-to-face with a recoveree to serve as a guide in the management of personal and family recovery. RW now has 13 trained peer to peer mentors available to coach those seeking recovery.

REFERRALS TO EXISTING SERVICES
Staff and volunteers provide referrals and help to demystify community and state services so that recoverees can get the help they need.

A SAFE PLACE TO BE AND VOLUNTEER
The recovery center provides a safe place to hang out, make phone calls, have some lunch, meet other people in recovery, maybe even play some cribbage.

SPECIAL EVENTS
Recover Wyoming hosts a variety of special events as a way to organize the recovery community to “give back” in meaningful ways. Our events help put a positive face on recovery as we work to overcome the stigma that is often times associated with addiction. Please consult our website, or visit us at the Recovery Community Center, for more information.

1. WHO ARE WE AND WHO DO WE SERVE?

The people who make up the volunteers, staff, & board of Recover Wyoming include individuals in long-term recovery and family members/allies of people affected by addiction. We serve recoverees (people seeking long-term recovery) and the broader community—family members, employers, anyone whose life has been impacted by addiction.

2. WHAT IS THE GOAL OF RECOVER WYOMING?

Addiction, left untreated, has only three outcomes—jail, institution, or death. There is an alternative, a fourth outcome, that Recover Wyoming actively promotes—long-term recovery.

As recoverees get their lives in order, finding jobs and housing, and reconnecting with family and friends in healthy ways, they go on to function as productive community members, sometimes for the first time in their lives. Recovery doesn’t happen in a vacuum. Family members, children, friends, and employers of recoverees, are all a part of the recovery process. They have their own needs for information and services, which Recover Wyoming strives to meet.

3. IS RECOVER WYOMING THE ONLY ORGANIZATION OF ITS KIND?

No! Recover Wyoming is an RCO— a Recovery Community Organization— one of over 175 local and state RCOs in the nation. It is the first organization of its kind in Wyoming. RCOs are independent, non-between treatment and long-term recovery. We are closely connected to the national RCO network, allowing us to learn from the experience of others and gain access to tools and techniques proven effective in sustaining long-term recovery.

HOW TO HELP

“We must not only give what we have; we must also give what we are.”
